Megazyme is a global leader in analytical reagents, enzymes and assay kits used to measure quality parameters across a range of industries. Megazyme is able to develop, manufacture, and supply products for laboratories around the world. Our customers range from infant formula, to biofuels, to the biggest names in the wine industry. Cutting-edge research is at the core of Megazyme's product development. Our novel test methods and reagents are developed by scientists for scientists, often breaking new ground in the measurement of carbohydrates and enzymes.
